Policy Statement

All students at The Rainforest School have the right to learn in an environment free from unlawful discrimination. The Rainforest School will provide a fair and safe learning environment where all students have equal opportunities. In particular, The Rainforest School will ensure that students with a disability are provided with opportunities to realise their potential through participating in education and training on the same basis as other students.

In accordance with relevant law, The Rainforest School is committed, whilst students are engaging in their education, to protecting students with a disability, and students associated with a person where that person has a disability, from both direct and indirect:

- discrimination on the basis of disability
- harassment and victimisation on the basis of disability,

In accordance with the relevant law, The Rainforest School will take reasonable steps to prevent unlawful discrimination, including harassment and victimisation, against students on the basis of disability in all facets of education at The Rainforest School, including:

- enrolment
- participation
- curriculum development, accreditation and delivery
- student support services.

The Rainforest School will make reasonable adjustments that do not cause unjustifiable hardship to ensure this equality of access and participation.

The Rainforest School is committed to responding appropriately should such discrimination, harassment or victimisation occur, including possible disciplinary action. Any instances of disability discrimination, harassment or victimisation should be reported under the The Rainforest School Dispute Resolution Policy.

Definitions

- Disability: in relation to a person, means:
  - a) total or partial loss of the person's bodily or mental functions
  - b) total or partial loss of a part of the body
  - c) the presence in the body of organisms causing disease or illness
  - d) the presence in the body of organisms capable of causing disease or illness
  - e) the malfunction, malformation or disfigurement of a part of the person's body
  - f) a disorder or malfunction that results in the person learning differently from a person without the disorder or malfunction

g) a disorder, illness or disease that affects a person's thought processes, perception of reality, emotions or judgment or that results in disturbed behaviour and includes a disability that:

h) presently exists

i) previously existed but no longer exists

j) may exist in the future (including because of a genetic predisposition to that disability)

k) is imputed to a person.

To avoid doubt, a disability that is otherwise covered by this definition includes behaviour that is a symptom or manifestation of the disability.

- Associate, in relation to a person: includes:

a) a spouse of the person

b) another person who is living with the person on a genuine domestic basis

c) a relative of the person

d) a carer of the person

e) another person who is in a business, sporting or recreational relationship with the person.

- Direct disability discrimination: a person (the discriminator) discriminates against another person (the aggrieved person) on the ground of a disability of the aggrieved person if, because of the disability, the discriminator treats, or proposes to treat, the aggrieved person less favourably than the discriminator would treat a person without the disability in circumstances that are not materially different.

A person (the discriminator) also discriminates against another person (the aggrieved person) on the ground of a disability of the aggrieved person if:

a) the discriminator does not make, or proposes not to make, reasonable adjustments for the person

b) the failure to make the reasonable adjustments has, or would have, the effect that the aggrieved person is, because of the disability, treated less favourably than a person without the disability would be treated in circumstances that are not materially different.

For the purposes of this section, circumstances are not materially different because of the fact that, because of the disability, the aggrieved person requires adjustments.

- Indirect disability discrimination: a person (the discriminator) discriminates against another person (the aggrieved person) on the ground of a disability of the aggrieved person if:

- a) the discriminator requires, or proposes to require, the aggrieved person to comply with a requirement or condition
- b) because of the disability, the aggrieved person does not or would not comply, or is not able or would not be able to comply, with the requirement or condition
- c) the requirement or condition has, or is likely to have, the effect of disadvantaging persons with the disability.

A person (the discriminator) also discriminates against another person (the aggrieved person) on the ground of a disability of the aggrieved person if:

- a) the discriminator requires, or proposes to require, the aggrieved person to comply with a requirement or condition
- b) because of the disability, the aggrieved person would comply, or would be able to comply, with the requirement or condition only if the discriminator made reasonable adjustments for the person, but the discriminator does not do so or proposes not to do so
- c) the failure to make reasonable adjustments has, or is likely to have, the effect of disadvantaging persons with the disability.
